Dear Parents,

I do hope you and your family are well and able to enjoy the lovely sunshine we have been blessed with of late.

I just wanted to remind you all about your child's reading and accessing Bug Club on line with your child every day.

I know many of you are using this online tool already and I thank you for this. It is so important as always that your child continues to read daily. Please copy and past the link to access the Bug Club online.

I only update the allocation of books when you have clicked finished and you feel confident that your child can read the book fully and understand the content, using the questions at the end of the book really helps with this.

If you have any difficulty or have perhaps you have mislaid your password please contact me through your child's profile on Tapestry and I can resend you the details.

Many thanks and happy reading
Mrs Shaw
