This is Davi. He has said lots of things about the Yanomami people and his village. However, Davi is quite mischievous, and not everything he has said is true! Read the sentences, and only colour in those that are correct!

Yanomami children go to school.

We make our home from bricks and cement.

Sometimes we eat grubs and caterpillars.

The women hunt animals for food.

We have a chief who is in charge.

We hold feasts and invite other villages.

We sleep in hammocks.

We live in the desert.

We use bows and arrows, and poisoned darts to hunt animals.

We call the home that we live in a shabono.

We buy our food from the local shops.

We use plants for food, medicine and building things.
